

Fulgenzi

FINE ART & MURALS

MEDIA KIT

Maureen Fulgenzi

Palm Beach Fine Artist & Muralist

Originals · Murals · Hand-Painted Tile · Portraits
Palm Beach County · Treasure Coast · Broward · Wellington

ArtFulgenzi@icloud.com · @fulgenziart

AT A GLANCE

Quick Facts

BASED IN Palm Beach, FL	SERVICE AREA Palm Beach County · Treasure Coast · Broward · Wellington
MEDIUMS Acrylic, mixed-media collage, hand-painted tile, murals, plexiglass	SPECIALTIES Abstract & realistic painting, custom murals, trompe l'oeil, hand-painted tile & vases, portraits
NOTABLE PUBLIC WORK Downtown Stuart public mural	PRESS Southern Home, Palm Beach Daily News, WPB Magazine & more

BIO — SHORT

Biography

Maureen Fulgenzi is a Palm Beach–based artist creating custom murals, original paintings, hand-painted tile and portraits for homes and businesses across Palm Beach County, the Treasure Coast, Broward and Wellington — from coastal and tropical scenes to trompe-l'oeil Tuscan villas and children's rooms.

BIO — EXTENDED

Before Palm Beach, she hand-painted silk for New York fashion designers — including Mary McFadden — and cofounded “Gossamer Wing,” which launched a hand-painted fabric-and-clothing trend into the fashion world. That background in fabric and color still shows: her work moves fluidly from bold abstraction to realism, on canvas, walls, and tile. She has completed residential, commercial, and public commissions, including a large-scale outdoor mural in downtown Stuart, FL, and an original painting placed in a Southern Home–featured Jupiter, FL residence. Her work has been covered by Palm Beach Daily News, WPB Magazine, and FENIX360, and is represented online through Global Fine Art and Wescover.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

At a Glance

- Featured in Southern Home magazine (March/April 2019) — an original Fulgenzi painting anchors the living room in “No Bolds Barred,” a Jupiter, FL project by designer Jackie Armour.
- Completed a large-scale outdoor public mural in downtown Stuart, FL.
- Profiled by Palm Beach Daily News for an abstract-art bank honor, and by WPB Magazine for her new studio showroom and the “Flora and Fauna” exhibit at The Box Gallery.
- Interviewed by FENIX360 on her work and process.

- Hand-painted silk fabrics for New York fashion designers, including Mary McFadden.
- Cofounded “Gossamer Wing,” which launched a hand-painted fabric-and-clothing trend into the fashion world.

ARTIST STATEMENT

In Her Own Words

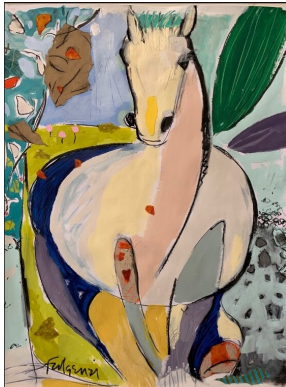

“Color and risk drive my process.”

I paint intuitively, working in mixed media and found materials from nature and daily life, and letting each piece evolve without a fixed plan. I draw on Milton Avery's simplicity of shape and color and Jean-Michel Basquiat's expressive freedom, and I move fluidly between bold abstraction and realism depending on what a space or client calls for.

PRESS IMAGES

Sample Works

Hi-res & watermarked versions available on request — see press contact below.

“Horse with Green Leaf” —
original acrylic painting

“A Bit of Country” —
original acrylic painting

“All that Jazz” — original mixed-media painting

“Abstract Birds” — original acrylic painting

PRESS & RECOGNITION

Featured In

Southern Home — March/April 2019

“No Bolds Barred,” a feature on designer Jackie Armour's Jupiter, FL project: “she suggested a piece by local West Palm Beach artist Maureen Fulgenzi and then framed the room with one of [Hunt] Slonem's painterly fabrics.” An original abstract painting by Maureen anchors the two-story living room fireplace wall.

WPB Magazine — “Horses, abstracts, and landscapes in Maureen Fulgenzi's new studio showroom”

A profile of her Riviera Beach studio/showroom, including her long-running role designing the official Supercar Week HorsePower poster art for the National Polo Center's opening weekend.

WPB Magazine — “Flora and Fauna” exhibit, The Box Gallery

Included among 30+ South Florida artists in a group exhibition celebrating Florida's landscape and wildlife.

Palm Beach Daily News — 2017

Coverage of a bank branch exhibit honoring her abstract work.

Around Wellington — “Color Therapy Courtesy of Maureen Fulgenzi”

A feature on her US Bank Palm Beach branch exhibit and mixed-media process, incorporating shells, sea glass and fabric scraps into her paintings.

The Fine Art Auction — International Women's Day feature

Named among a group of women artists for her “intricate abstract designs bursting with color.”

FENIX360 — Video interview

On-camera interview about her work and process.

Notable client — Historic Apollo School (Hobe Sound, FL)

Painted a historical rendering for the Apollo School Foundation, a National Register of Historic Places schoolhouse restored as a community center.

Global Fine Art & Wescover

Represented online through Global Fine Art's artist roster and Wescover's design-trade marketplace.

IN THEIR WORDS

Testimonials

“What strikes me most as an illustrator is Maureen's range — she moves fluidly between abstraction and realism, across canvas, mural, and tile, and every direction she takes a project is technically confident and fully resolved.”

— Rollin McGrail, Illustrator

“Maureen's murals are simply beautiful — every one I've seen completely transforms a room.”

— Carol Viccellio

“I have three of Maureen's murals in my bathrooms, including a playful monkey scene guests still talk about. They've completely transformed the spaces and added real value to my rental property — I'm already planning her next mural for my living room.”

— Linda Jackson

PRESS & MEDIA CONTACT

ArtFulgenzi@icloud.com

Instagram — @fulgenziart